PROGRESS.

The Life of the Land is Established in Righteousness.

HONOLULU, MAY 26 1894.

OUR VIGOROUS FOREIGN POLICY.

The p. g. in Search of Territory.

When it was learned last night that the steamer Iwalani belonging to the Inter Island Steamship Company had been dispatched with a flagstaff, a cabinet minister, 50 tons of coal, and provisions for 10 days for the purpose of conquering Johnson Island, an uninhabited rock in the North Pacific, the hearts of the faithful followers of Allah Dole swelled with pride and special service at the Central Union was ordered for the purpose of praying for the brave men who fearlessly fought Koolan, his wife and child and who now bid defiance to the other gulls that inhabit Johnson Island. The expedition now undertaken has been contemplated for about three weeks. It has been known to the government that the Canadian-Australian Cable will not touch Honolulu, but we doubt very much that Johnson Island is the spot selected by Great Britain to make a Cable station. The Island of Nihaui is the most suitable place for such a purpose and it is generally believed that negotiations have been carried on for some time between the owners of that island and the British government for a transfer of the property. Johnson Island belongs to Great Britain—so says Great Britain and it is really a cause for admiration that Capt. King was found willing and ready to cut the claws of the Lion and twist the tail of the Unicorn by sticking up his flagpole, his flag and his nose in a part of the British dominion. But why all this secrecy? Why this outrageous waste of public money? Why this ignoring of the Advisory Council by the Ministers? Does the Executive Council think that it is above responsibility and above the laws? It seems so. There can be no reason for a Lilliputian government like the p. g. to undertake naval expeditions and it certainly owes the taxpayers a full and complete explanation of its expenditures. The country is sorely crippled by the unbecoming extravagance of the revolutionary government. The expedition to Washington cost the people $13,000 or 14,000 without any benefit being derived. The chartering for 10 days or more of the Iwalani to send her on some junketing expedition will cost another goodly sum. If the government is to run for the benefit of the two local steamship companies well and good. But the taxpayers ought to have a clean understanding and know all about it.

The reason given for the despatch of the King expedition is that a man named Reid arrived by the Warrimoo, and told the p. g. government that the projected cable would not touch at Honolulu. The only Reid on board the Warrimoo was Hon. Robert Reid, Minister of Defense, in Victoria. We doubt very much that he would furnish the p. g. officially with any information as to the intended actions of the British, Canadian or Australian governments. And what good it will do Hawaii to have its flag, a while ago constantly derided by the p. g., floating on a rock in Pacific, we do not know. If Great Britain or any other power wants the rock the presence of the Hawaiian flag is of very small moment. If Minister King had taken the army (!) with him, and left the ex-commander-in-chief now without any rank the taxpayers might have forgiven him and his colleagues. Now the useless expense and illegal waste of public money will simply act as another nail in the provisional government's coffin.

The Family Compact.

The Deputy Registrar's office which has been vacant since the departure of Malcolm Brown, over a year ago has had very little to do, and as a matter of economy the superfluous office was practically abolished. Now, however Economy takes on an air of afterthought for behold, an Uncle, of the showman-diplomat has arrived and must be provided for. Where now is the talent in the Leagues and Clubs. They are asking why they get the cold-shoulder and strangers preferred; but in all cases the leagues should know that the family must be provided for first.

"Inquirer" in yesterday's Advertiser takes the Minister of Finance to ask for doing what the law demands, namely; when the government asks for bids; that the lowest bidder should get the contract. This is so obviously honest and approved to the methods and interests of the ring whose brand "Inquirer" bears, that it is of course "greatly surprised."

As Inquirer is evidently one of that select herd of pets whose elongated ears delights in hearing his own "bray," he asks the following staggering question. Would Mr. Damon recommend the trustees of the Central Union Church to rent it, during the week to hula dancers, because money could be saved by so doing and a "strict economy" be observed. To which the Holomua replies for itself by asking "Inquirer," what in the difference between a hula show, owned by Central Union people at the Mid-winter Fair and one in the church grounds.

The balance of "Inquirer's" ravings indicates that he is familiar with the "cheap dive" that has driven him to raving about murder and cheap milk, and our advice to "Inquirer" is that he get his head shaved before he gets worse.

WHAT THEY SAY.

—That the Iwalani is going to San Diego to annex the United States.

—That the Advertiser says: Minister King took with him two gatling guns and a file of soldiers. A file of the Holomua was in his grip sack.

—That Emmeluth was shockingly ignored but will get even with a two-legged decoration for King on his return.

—That the Advertiser is ignorant of the fact that the "passenger Robert Reed," is a British cabinet minister.

—That the Champion will call at Nihaui not waiting at Johnson Island for King.

—That the "big flag pole" will return and do for a provisional hat peg.

—That the old rooster waiting as "Eggs" in this morning screech, is a hen roost visitor.

—That hospital Steward Eckhardt is a gentleman.

—That the Volcano House Company's meeting report will be interesting reading if published.

—That the Schneutzen Club is increasing in numbers and in its leanings towards cor populi.

—That the Harden escapee will furnish Manager Dailey with material for a new drama.

—That Hartwell ought to be p. g. Envoy to Russia.

—That Hawaii may be too sultry for him mahope.

—That Henry Klemme ought to take Suhr's place in the Council.

—That there are too many planters and missionaries in the oligarchy now.

—That Nihaui will be a cable station, and is sold to the British Government.

—That the printed financial statement is a credit to Registrar Ashley and the Holomua.

—That the Holomua Job Office is will provided with material and skill.

—Mr. L. A. Thurston in the editor-in-chief of the Star, with the useless expense and illegal waste of public money will simply act as another nail in the provisional government's coffin.

STRAY NOTES.

If it had not been war times dot Schuetzen club would not have obtained such a kind bearing from the President and Vice President the other day.

The lately returned Military Cadet will experiment with his newly learned tactics on the p. g. squads next full moon.

When is the Great W. O. S. going to bring Koolan into camp. Military funerals come high but as we are situated hang the cost.

It is mighty handy to have the right man as foreman on a job, one who knows how to O. K. his patrons lumber bills.

Talking about annexation Scotland and Ireland were annexed by such shameless bribery and corruption as one sees practised in Hawaii by the annexationists and now the Union of England to Ireland and Scotland is pulling to pieces almost simultaneously. The last mail informs us that the British House of Commons has passed by ten votes a motion in favor of Home Rule for Scotland.

CORRESPONDENCE.

(We do not hold ourselves responsible for the opinions or the utterances of our correspondents.)

EDITOR HOLOMUA:

Permit me space for a few remarks upon the genealogy of the unfortunate kumokio who is chirping from under the missionary wing.

It is extremely gratifying to this gentleman to have his name heralded as a "prince," but it is necessary in this sceptical world to show credentials. Will Kaniaka be kind enough to produce his. It is proper, seeing the prominence given to this calow bantling by our missionary friends, to examine into his warrant and find how and why he claims the peculiarly violet tinge of his circulating fluids. The pedigree of Kuniaka is not a very gratifying one for the American League, or any other cosmopolitan crowd who bolster up the "prince" in his ridiculous pretensions. His father was Kaeo, who was descended from a line of petty Maui chiefs:

"Lords of a hundred spears." In former days there were three high grades of nobility, niuapu, naha, and wahi. Kaeo and his progenitors did not belong to any of these, they held land in vassalage from their superiors, and gave themselves no ridiculous pretensions of rank. Of course it will be claimed by the ancient law of mookuanhau-alii that the particular tint of blue enjoyed by Kuniaka comes from the mother. So be it. It is now in order to examine the pedigree of Lahilahi Young. On her father's side Lahilahi has no pedigree. Poor old boatswain Young was ennobled by the kings, but that gave him no ancestors, so the "prince" had better maintain a discreet silence. Kaniaka the mother of Lahilahi was the daughter of Kaliko (w) and Keaka, a cast-off Tahitian chief of an infinitesimally low rank. Kaliko claimed successively Kaniaka, and Kaleipihala as the father of Kaniaka, and if she could prove the claim Kuniaka would have a show to hold his shadowy title. Both these high chiefs however, denied the soft impeachment and therefore Kaniaka the grand-mother of Kuniaka, was really the daughter of Keaka whom as was stated was a Tahitian of little rank and no consequence.

On page 316 of Alexander's History in a "select" genealogy (why select?) we find the statement that Kaniaka was the daughter of Keliimaikai and brother of Kekuakalani. This is not true. I can cite Malo and Kamakau to controvert this deliberate misstatement of facts. Where is the nobility of Kuniaka now? Where is the basis of his claim? Of course a man in whom predominates the blood of a cast off British boatswain, and a refugee Tahitian, cannot be expected to be a Hawaiian either in fact or mind. I would be pleased to hear Kuniaka's answer to this letter; I would wish to see the exact grounds upon which he bases a claim which is very little short of a deliberate falsehood.

EDITOR HOLOMUA:

The following from the San Francisco News Letter, ("that goes to the heart of the matter") is a right royal answer to an article that appeared in the Advertiser of May 16, signed "A Homekeeper."

The question of the extension of woman's suffrage to the polls is vexing the Eastern editors, and since it was given out that Mrs. Astor would lead the movement, its interest has doubled. There are many objections to women as voters. Decent men do not take any great interest in the polls, and how can decent, refined women be expected to do so? Why should we give the heeler and the tough the privilege of escorting his ignorant wife or his mistress to the polls to reinforce his vote? Women are tractable and emotional, and for this reason are easily influenced by artful, "magnetic" men, and a handsome rascal would have all the women in town voting for him. Besides, with suffrage we would have a lot of manish women—the kind that men despise."

TRUTH

Queen's Birthday Entertainment.

Thursday evening the large Assembly hall in the Cathedral grounds of St. Andrew's Church was filled with an audience assembled to do honor to Queen Victoria's birthday. A following well selected program was pleasingly presented, the piano-forte aids to vocalization being rendered by the Rev. V. H. Kiteat and Wray Taylor.

It would be invidious to select any number for special mention, but the hand-bell performances of Mr. Armstrong Smith's boys was the gem. Dr. Ings possessed a rich deep baritone voice which is hoped to be heard often. The choir of St. Andrew's native congregation, were twenty in number, and sang well.

Refreshments having been served and a pleasant time of social conversation enjoyed, the exercises closed with a brief address by Bishop Willis and the singing of "God save the Queen" and "Hawaii Ponoi."

The Advertiser who catches a persons eye usually wins a customer. Many different styles of advertising have been adopted and with more or less success, by the believers in the use of printers ink. The manufacturers of Pears Soap, for instance, occasionally buy paintings that have been on exhibition in the Paris Salon and have lithographs made from them for the purpose of bringing their product before the people. In addition to such side issues, Pears spends hundreds thousands of dollars annually among the newspapers and magazines. Some years ago the Agents of certain article on sale in New York made a hit in advertising by having on Broadway during business hours two fatuously dressed Negroes wearing very high collars, on the backs of which was printed "Use Smiths Pills." The idea was novel and the public caught on. Rising Sun Stove Polish has been kept before the public for years through persistent, and sometimes expensive advertising. Twenty odd years ago the manufacturers of this polish started half a dozen men across the ornament to paint signs on rocks and fences. The Aermotor Co., of Chicago have increased its sales more than five hundred per cent in two years by the use of printers ink. We believe we have been instrumental in increasing the sales of the Aermotor by keeping everlastingly at it in Hawaii.

We do not wish to say that advertising will sell any manufactured article; there is no use spending money in advertising "cheap and nasty" goods because the people will not be hoodwinked. If Haviland China was not the superior article it is, all our advertising of it would not have sold the thousands of pieces that we have. We simply call the attention of the people to it and its superior quality is apparent to the customer directly a piece of it is examined.

Printers ink has helped the sale of the James Locked Fence but it would not have done so if it had been as flimsy as the ordinary wire fence. First, the economy there is in building it recommends it to the plantation manager and then its durability clinches the sale. If the stays and washers cost as much as an ordinary redwood post our sales of the material would not have reached such enormous proportions.

Our average sale of the Pansy Iron Stove is about two a day the year round. It was not the best iron stove on the market we would not sell that many in six months. Advertising is the tip to the public the good points in the article sells it just as the good qualities of the Fischer Steel Range make it a desirable article for people who wish to economize in the use of fuel.

We buy only what has proven good after people in the United States or Europe have given it a trial; we profit by their experience if the articles are good we buy and sell them; if they are poor we steer clear of them. When we advertise an article it is to attract attention to it; the newspaper is the button we push, the salesman does the rest.

Persistent advertising coupled with the article being a superior one has sold thousands of the Frank Walcott Emory File. If it had been no better than an ordinary scythe stone we probably would not have sold twenty. When a man finds out that his table knives may be kept sharp at all times at an expense of fifty cents and a very little elbow grease he is quite willing to try the experiment.
